

PLANS ARE LAYED FOR NATIONAL GUARD

District Militia to Have Place in First Division, Leading States.

CADETS AS GUIDES AT UNION STATION

High School Boys in Uniform to Direct Visitors to Destination.

Capt. Samuel E. Smiley, adjutant general of the District of Columbia National Guard, was today in conference at the War Department with the grand marshal of the inaugural parade and his aides to complete detailed arrangements for participation of the District guard in the inaugural parade.

The District National Guard will be honored with a position in the first division, and will lead all the National Guard organizations of the country. The first and second regiments with the third separate battalion will form in line on First street southeast, with the head of the column resting on B street southeast, and the rear guard turning B street northeast. The column will fall in line of march immediately behind the navy, being the first organization to follow the United States regulars.

Goos Over Route.

Captain Smiley has practically concluded arrangements for the assembly of the District National Guards, and this morning went over the route the troops will take from the three armories to the east front of the Capitol in the morning. Although not definitely decided, it is possible that one of the District National Guard organizations will march down the Avenue for formation.

The companies will march in platoons in regular order, and they will be uniformed with the regulation service dress outfit. Details of the uniform will be left to Captain Smiley's judgment by the grand marshal, as it is impossible to issue general orders on the subject owing to the homogenous nature of the organizations.

Rear Guard.

At President Roosevelt's inauguration, one detachment of the District militia—little less than a company—under Captain Parker, formed the rear guard for the entire procession. This detail was mounted and its purpose was to keep the crowds from closing in on the end of the line. Whether or not such a detail will be necessary this year has not been fully determined.

Captain Smiley will advertise in a few days for bids for the furnishing of horses for the light battery field artillery which will participate with the other organizations in the parade. The hospital and Signal Corps will also be requested to furnish details. It is probable that a rear guard is necessary additional proposals will be invited for horses for this detail.

Old Confederates.

The inauguration will have no more interesting and instructive features than the parade of the division of former Confederate soldiers, which is being arranged by Chairman Weller of the public comfort committee. Mr. Weller has taken the initiative in this matter by tendering a cordial invitation to a camp of United Confederate Veterans in Georgia to come to Washington to take part in the big procession. Other regiments in the South, including the famous Wheeler cavalry of Atlanta, the members of which wear the olive drab uniform of Southern gray, are also planning to participate in the ceremonies.

Cadets as Guides.

Plans were completed today for the system of guides to be furnished visitors to Washington during inauguration week. In this system the high school cadets will play the leading part.

As has been the custom during recent inaugurations, cadets will be stationed at the Union Station to meet all incoming trains, and will gratuitously direct visitors to any part of the city.

This year the system will be worked out more in detail than ever before. More cadets will be stationed at the Union Station to meet all incoming trains, and will gratuitously direct visitors to any part of the city.

Chairman M. I. Weller, of the committee on public comfort, has appointed Percy M. Hughes, assistant superintendent of the city, to take charge of the committee to take charge of the selection of the corps of cadets who will be detailed to this duty.

White and Colored.

The detail will consist of 100 cadets, ninety from the white schools and ten from the colored high schools, the latter to look after colored visitors. Immediately after their selection the guides will be assembled for instruction.

Each guide will be furnished with a map of the city by the inaugural committee and before assuming his duties will have to stand an examination on the city and the shortest routes to various points. While on duty the cadets will be required to wear full uniform, and will also wear the red badges of the public comfort committee.

At no time will there be less than twenty cadets at Union Station, according to present plans, and during the busy hours when the arrivals are heaviest the full detail of 100 men will be on duty. They will be under the supervision of the committee on public comfort, and will be directly in command of the officers of the high school regiment.

A streak of economy on the part of the

DAWE HERE TO PUSH SOUTHERN CONGRESS

Managing Director Arrives and Will Open Offices Tomorrow—Hope to Erect Eighteen-Story Building for Permanent Quarters Here.

Ambitious plans for tackling the gigantic task set for itself by the Southern Commercial Congress, were discussed at a conference of its leading spirits held this morning in the offices of Charles S. Douglas, attorney, and member of the Washington committee, in the Colorado building.

Impetus was given the movement to establish a great Southern embassy to Washington, as it has been prospectively styled, by the arrival from Montgomery, Ala., this morning of G. Grosvenor Dawe, managing director of the congress. Mr. Dawe will open offices for the congress in Washington tomorrow at 705-707 Union Trust building.

Members of the local committee were announced this morning as follows: Oscar S. Straus, secretary of Commerce and Labor; Luke E. Wright, secretary of War; W. W. Finley, president of the Southern Railway Company; S. W. Woodward, of Woodward & Lothrop; A. Gude, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Charles A. Douglas, attorney; Clifford Pincher, chief clerk; Charles H. Treat, Treasurer of the United States; J. H. Small, president

HAT SHOPS START; ARE SHORT-HANDED

Few Workers Report When Manufacturers Open Doors After Strike.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—"Every factory opened this morning when the whistle blew, and began to manufacture hats," said Milton Dammann, secretary of the Associated Hat Manufacturers today. "Some men were put to work in every factory where a strike had been declared."

Samuel Mundheim, president of the Associated Hat Manufacturers, said only four men reported for work at his Brooklyn factory, which employs about 450 hands.

Reports from Danbury, South Norwalk, and Newark indicate the same condition.

The Delaware Legislature, it was learned today, may result in materially decreasing the representation from that State. The past week has been spent in a discussion of the feasibility of sending troops to Washington and from the president and outlook the prospects for a large Delaware delegation are not very bright.

The Commissioners will today inform Chairman John B. Larner, of the committee on reviewing stands, that they do not deem it proper for the Governor to let contracts to private parties along the line of parade for the purpose of making money.

This action was taken as the result of the request of P. G. Eiker that he be permitted to place benches on both sides of Pennsylvania avenue from Seventh street along Pennsylvania avenue to the Peace Monument to be rented on March 4.

Major Sylvester, to whom the request was referred, declares that he does not approve of this use of favorable locations for seeing the parade.

Mr. Larner declares he doubts the propriety of using the sidewalks for this purpose.

This action, coupled with the recent regulation prohibiting the use of chairs and pedestals of any kind on the sidewalks, will keep the streets clear on inaugural day.

Prices No Higher.

A careful comparison of rates asked this year for windows along the line of march of the inaugural parade is said to disprove the claim that prices are any higher this year than at former events.

"The prices for the stands remain unchanged," declared a prominent member of the committee today, "and these are acknowledged to be remarkably low when compared with the prices charged for seats along the line of march of parades recently given in other cities. The highest price charged by the committee for seats on its stands before the court of honor, undeniably the most sought after point of vantage, is but $5 less than is paid cheerfully to see grand opera or some other form of amusement."

Without Foundation.

"In my opinion the complaints registered by organizations coming to this city are without foundation. I understand that the larger rooms along the line of march are bringing over $100. A young ladies' seminary has rented a room in an office building for $200, but from this room about thirty girls will see the parade."

The prize aggregation of inaugural beauties, otherwise known as inaugural aides, will be invited to dine at the home of Thomas F. Walsh on March 2.

"I wish you would make it plain," declared Mr. Walsh, "that these men as well as being picked for 'beauties' are also representative men from their respective States, and should have a national tone to the inaugural ball."

No trouble at all to brighten an oil painting, the colors of which have grown dingy by age and exposure.

With a clean sponge apply cold water in which a little Ivory Soap has been dissolved.

The same treatment will materially improve the appearance of the frame.

CAW AND DOGS ARE AFFLICTED

Health Department Officers Declare Cases Continuation of Last Summer's Outbreak.

Dr. H. Young, inspector of the Health Department, has reported the presence of rabies on the farm of A. K. Tingle, Spring Road, D. C. Two men, it is said, have been exposed to the disease, and advised to apply at the Marine Hospital for treatment.

"This farm," says the report, "is next to that of Henry Seidenberg, on which three cases of rabies in dogs were found during last summer and fall."

Dogs Quarantined.

"On the Tingle farm one dog was found in October to be suffering from rabies. This animal was one of two quarantined. The other, a small black and tan, is still in quarantine and is kept in the house."

"A cow reported to be suffering from the malady was at the time of my inspection and examination in the last stages of paralysis. Dr. Washburn, of the Department of Agriculture, who examined her at the same time, informed me that he had had her under observation for three days and that in his opinion an examination of the brain was unnecessary, as the case exhibited typical symptoms of rabies."

Men Are Exposed.

"Two men were exposed to the disease and I respectfully recommend that both be advised by letter, as they have been verbally, to call at the Marine Hospital laboratory for advice and also that the authorities be notified that in the opinion of the veterinarians who examined the animals, the cases are undoubtedly rabies."

According to Health Department officials, the cases are continuations of the outbreak which occurred last summer and means have been adopted to prevent its further spread.

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The Rhine is falling at Cologne and no further damage is expected there, but at Frankfurt the main is still rising rapidly, and the streets are flooded for a considerable distance from the water front. ## NAMED BY THE PEOPLE

A True Story and Full of Human Interest

Everyone Should Read

Half a century ago, Rev. Fr. John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., through overwork and exposure, became seriously run down. A cold and stubborn cough and lung trouble threatened his life. An eminent specialist, gave Father John, as he was fondly called, a prescription to cure the cold and remove the lung trouble, as well as to build up and strengthen the body. The clergyman began to improve at once, the cough disappeared and his lungs healed. He corrected his digestion, made new blood, and Father John was soon restored to his former health and strength.

Father John recommended the medicine to his parishioners and his friends, and because of its merits it became the family remedy in thousands of homes, and became known as "Father John's Medicine," having been so named by the people, and was advertised, all with approval of Father John.

It will cure all throat and lung troubles, prevent pneumonia and consumption and make flesh and strength if taken faithfully. It is not a patent medicine and does not contain alcohol or poisonous drugs. Read guarantee which follows:

INSURGENTS REPORT TO THE PRESIDENT

Plan to Place House Authority in Committee Is Finished.

The House insurgents, twenty-nine strong, have agreed on a plan of action for taking from the Speaker the appointment of committees and controlling the large power vested in the Committee on Rules.

Representative Gardner of Massachusetts, one of the leaders, laid before President Roosevelt today the agreement reached at a late hour last night. Representative Scott of Kansas, and Townsend of Michigan, and other members of the insurgent faction, will submit a minority report. The whole question may be taken shortly into the House in the form of a resolution.

In brief the plan is this: Vesting the power of appointment of committees and their chairmen in a committee of fifteen, nine Republicans and six Democrats, chosen from the House by territorial division, so that each section of the country may be represented. The committee will be known as the Committee on Rules and Committees.

Another stipulation is that one day each week, to be known as "Calendar Tuesday," will be set apart for action on general measures of importance whether approved by the Speaker and the Committee on Rules and Committees or not. On that day no consideration of an appropriation bill is to be permitted.

The twenty-nine insurgents who signed this agreement are: Boyd (Neb.), Cary and Cooper (Wis.), Davis (Minn.), Ellis (Mo.), Esch (Wis.), Fowler (N. J.), Gardner (Mass.), Grenna (N. D.), Hayes (Iowa), Hubert (Iowa), Knickerbocker (Neb.), Lathrop (Iowa), Levering (Mass.), Madison (Wis.), Marshall (N.
